ABOUT

Highly motivated junior software developer with a recent completion of a full-stack JavaScript development program at Semos Education. Recognized as a rising star and the best student in the group, I excel in back-end development while also possessing strong front-end skills.

My prior experience as a translator has equipped me with exceptional communication skills and meticulous attention to detail, which I bring to my work as a software developer.

I'm passionate about technology and eager to apply my expertise to create efficient and scalable web applications. I enjoy learning new technologies and staying updated with industry trends.
